The following verses are by the late Mr. N. G. Shepherd, and are his last hterary production. He left the manuscript at the office of Appleton's Journal, received the money for it. Appleton's Journal, received the money for it, and a few hours afterward died from the effects of intoxication. The poem is founded on an actual incident, the clothes only of a drowned woman remaining at the Morguo for drowned woman remaining at the morguo for

There is the hat "With the blue veil thrown round it, just as they found it,
Spotted and so:led, stained and all spoiled—
Do you recognize that?

The gloves, too, lie there,
And in them still lingers the shape of her fingers,
That some has pressed, perhaps, and caressed,
So slender and fair.

There are the shoes,
With their long silken laces, still bearing traces,
To the toe's dainty tip, of the mud of the slip,
The sime and the ooze.

There is the dress, Like the blue veil, all dabbled, discolored and drab This you should know, without doubt, and, if so, All else you may guess!

There is the shawl, With the stripee border, hung next in order, Boiled hardly less than the light muslin dress, and—that is all.

Ah! here's a ring
We were forgetting, with a pearl setting;
There was only this one—name or date?—none!
A frail, pretty thing

A hespeake, may be,
The pirt of anomer, permaps a brother,
Or lover, who knows? him her heart chose,
Or, was she heart-free?

Does the hat there,
With the blue well around it, the same as they found it,
Bummon up a fair face with just a trace
Of gold in the hali?

Or does the shawl,
Mutely appealing to some hidden feeling.
A form, young and slight, to your mine's sight,
Glearly recall? A month now has passed,
And her sad history remains yet a mystery.
But these we keep still, and shall keep them until Hope dies at last.

Was she the prey
is deep sorrow clouding the morrow,
from view the sky's happy blue?
Or was there foul play?

Alas! who nay tell?
Fome one or other, perhaps a fond mother,
May recognize these when her child's clother Then-will it be well?

The Charleston Money Market.

THURSDAY, June 17, 1869. The past week has been unusually dull, and quoremain unaltered. Those given below are merely nominal, as there were no large transactions upon which to base any change. State bank tills are still in demand, under a slight advance on previous rates. Mr. A. M. Moreland purchased $15,000 South Carolina Bailroad seven per cent. bonds, due in 1872, at 85 cents, and two hundred whole shares South Carolina Railroad and Bank stock at 45. This was the only large transaction of the week, and the price of other securities is unchanged. SOUTHERN BANK BILLS.

THE CHARLESTON MARKET. FOR THE WEEK ENDING JUNE 17, 1869.

THE Chors.—The growing crop of cotton has conned to progress favorably during the past week, and the reports from most sections indicate a steady improvement. In the scaboard districts of this State the rice on some of the streams is in danger from salts, and corn has been injured for want of rain, but the sea island cotton promises well, and as yet there has been no appearance of caterpillar. THE COTION MARKET.-There has been a steady nquiry for the staple from Northern manufacturers throughout the week, and with much reduced stocks in the Southern ports factors have been enabled to harden their rates, and prices have had an advancing tendency; but this improvement has been shown mostly in the American market, the article exhibiting less strength at Liverpool. In the Euglish market the staple for much of the week has been quiet with only moderate transactions, prices ruling during this period at 11%d for middling upland, tut has since advanced to 12d, whi'e at New middlings which opened at 31% stiffened to 33%c, while at this port prices improved about 1c and upward $ $\mathbb{E}$; middling upland, which commenced at 80c advanced to 81c, and with some sellers asking 32c % 15.

The article has made the following r Liverpool and New York: On Friday, June 11th, the former was quiet, sales 10,000 bales, uplands 111/d; the latter was firmer, sales 2900 bales at 31%c. On Saturday the former was quiet, sales 8,000 bales, uplands 11%d; the latter was firmer, sales 3500 bales at 81% c's. On Monday the former continued quiet, sales 10,000 bales, uplands 11%d; the latter was firmer, sales 3700 bales at 32% cts. On Tuesday the former continued quiet, sales 10,000 bales, uplands 11%d; the latter was active and higher, sales 7500 bales at 32 %c. On Wednesday the former was active, sales 20,000 bales, uplands 11%1; the latter was firm and demand good, sa es 4800 bales at 33@ 33½ cts. Yesterday the former was firmer, sales 15,000 bales, uplands 12d; the latter was firm at
